

POSTGRADUATE OPEN DAY

Society of Antiquaries of London

Friday 25 October, 10 - 16:30

Our annual Postgraduate Open Day is aimed at postgraduate students as well as early-career researchers.

The Society's library is the country's oldest major research library for archaeology, architectural history, decorative arts (especially medieval), material culture and the historic environment.

Spend the day learning about our collections and the resources that can help you with your research. Hear from Fellows of the Society who are experts in their fields. Network with other postgraduate students and early-career researchers. Spend time in the Library, exploring our collections.

£5 per person. Lunch will be provided.

Registration is now open.
