

LGBTQ+ PARENTS' EVENT

The Perinatal Mental Health and Parenting Research Unit (PRIME-RU) invites you to our free online 'meet the researchers' event. All parents and expectant parents within the LGBTQ+ community are welcome.

WHAT IS OUR AIM?

Parental mental health research involves mostly mothers from White, Western communities. PRIME-RU wants to make research relevant and helpful for all.

Bringing people together seems like a great place to start- we hope you can join us!

27 January 2022, 19:30-21:00

Online via Zoom

(Details to be sent upon sign-up)

We will reimburse you £25 for your time.

Places are limited.

WHAT TO EXPECT:

- You will learn about PRIME-RU and our work on parenting and mental health
- You will have the chance to discuss your thoughts on parenting research
- We would like to discuss the research priorities for parents in your community
- We would like to understand how to overcome parents' barriers to involvement in research

Contact us to book your place ASAP- please book early to avoid disappointment

CONTACT US

✉ Email: prime@gmmh.nhs.uk

☎ Telephone: 0161 271 0028

🌐 Website: <https://sites.manchester.ac.uk/parenting-families-research/>

