University College for Interdisciplinary Learning (UCIL) units provide a unique learning experience by giving you the chance to study an interdisciplinary unit which is different to your degree subject and to work alongside students from different degree programmes across the University.

UCIL units are open to undergraduate students with free choice options and count towards your degree. Our course units equip you with invaluable knowledge and skills which will complement your studies and make you more employable.

Units are delivered in a number of ways including face-to-face, blended learning and entirely online. Many of the units focus on big issues and challenges for society that require an interdisciplinary approach such as the digital revolution, globalisation and climate change.

Three new flagship online units have been developed for 2018-19:

- Are We Alone? The Search for Extraterrestrial Life
- AI: Robot Overlord, Replacement or Colleague?
- Understanding Mental Health
